CREDA Chicago
39th Annual Awards for Excellence Winner

Engineering Firm of the Year

Kimley-Horn

Kimley-Horn is a national, full-service consulting engineering firm with more than 11,000 employees and 160+ offices nationwide, including more than 400 professionals across our three Chicagoland offices. Over the past year, our local team has helped private and public sector clients solve complex planning and design challenges through comprehensive engineering services. In the Chicago region alone, we supported more than 300 development projects spanning industrial, data center, mixed-use, retail, residential, and healthcare markets—projects that are helping shape the future of the region's built environment.
